MONTHLY REPORT OF THE CANDLER PARK NEIGHBORHOOD ORGANIZATION

Volume 9 Issue 10

Oct 1997

Freedom Park Funding Request

As many of you are aware, the City of Atlanta has allocated one million dollars for improvements to Freedom Park. This money was provided contingent on one million dollars in matching funds being raised from other sources. The PATH foundation has graciously agreed to raise $500,000 to match half of the allocation. This leaves $500,000 to be raised from other sources.

To accomplish this goal, The Freedom Park Conservancy needs to prepare a detailed grading and landscaping plan that can be used to approach major foundations and other sources with requests for funding. The Conservancy is asking membership organizations for funds that will be used to prepare these drawings. At this month's CPNO meeting we will be asked to approve $5,000 towards this goal.

First Friday Family Fun

First Friday Family Fun Night in Little Five Points seems to draw bigger crowds each month. I have enjoyed bumping into neighbors and friends who have wheeled their children up to the park for an evening of chalk drawing, bubble blowing, and other events targeting young children.

These evenings are the brainchild of a subcommittee of the Neighborhood Planning Unit. The subcommittee has representatives from Inman Park, Candler Park, and the Little Five Points Business Association and is headed by the energetic Ginger Lyons.

Ginger will be coming to this months CPNO meeting with a request for volunteers to help plan events and with a request for funds to cover costs - primarily materials and safety. Please attend to learn more about First Friday Family Night and to see what we can do to help it grow.

Public Safety Report

For the latest five week period, there were four motor vehicle thefts, eight thefts from vehicles, five damage to vehicle reports, 17 burglaries, six other thefts and three robberies. This continues the high number of burglaries seen in the previous period. Break-ins have been through rear windows and through air conditioning units, primarily, mostly during the day. One scary exception was a midnight encounter of a suspect who had entered an open window of a house on Miller Avenue. Do call 911 if you see suspicious persons carrying big bags full of items down the street; at least one suspect might have been caught if such a call had been made in time.

Please let me know about any crimes I miss so I can report them in an update the next month. And do call me at 378-5883 after you make a police report so I will know about it before I go to the precinct. Please get in touch if you are interested in working together to make our neighborhood a safer place. Between Messenger reports, check the CPNO number (770-453-8255) for updates on crime. Or send me an e-mail note to notify me or if you want to be notified of any unusual activity - bertskellie@mindspring.com.

Mary Lin Buddy Program

Mary Lin's Buddy program enters its 6th year of helping students this year! This program pairs volunteers with individual children whom they visit weekly at school. These 'buddies' act as special friends, mentors and tutors. A buddy can make a real difference in a child's life - both academically and behaviorally. Currently about 15 students have been paired with buddies. Many more could be used! If you are interested in becoming a buddy or learning more about the program, please contact Melinda Teel at 627-4722.

Free Trees for Candler Park

Tree planting season is approaching. Trees Atlanta is willing to provide shade trees in 10 gallon pots for Candler Park residents (no developers or in-filers, please). These trees should be planted in an area visible from the street and in a place that can be watered regularly. If you want free trees this fall, please leave the following information on my answering machine: your name, your address, phone # and approximate location you want to plant your trees. My numbers are 577-8722 or 378-0365. The trees will be delivered by Trees Atlanta to a central location where they can be picked up this fall. If you need more information about tree planting in Candler Park and other intown neighborhoods, would like to join Trees Atlanta, would like to make a donation or volunteer for a Trees Atlanta project, please call Greg Levine at 522-4097.

Happy Anniversary

On Friday, August 29th, I celebrated my one year anniversary as a homeowner and resident of Candler Park. I thought now would be an appropriate time to introduce myself to the community and share with you my thoughts and perceptions of my first year.

- First and foremost, I'd like to say thanks to my immediate neighbors for welcoming me to the street (Candler St.). It's so nice to come home from a frustrating day at work and have cerebral, positive, genuine people to talk to.
- The demographic diversity in the neighborhood is outstanding. I grew up in a very ethnic neighborhood in New York (yet another Yankee - sorry). The mix of Asians, African-Americans, Caucasians, hetero/homosexuals, young and old is so refreshing. Been to a party in an Alpharetta subdivision lately?
- The Candler Park Home Tour was great. I can't wait 'till I have lots of money. I especially liked the house where the owners served hot apple cider- it was a great touch.
- I enjoy reading the Messenger each month, although the police blotter scared my mother to death when she visited (lunch at the Flying Biscuit calmed her down tremendously). Speaking of the Messenger, I'd like to get on my soap box for moment. To date, the Messenger has been my only contact with the neighborhood association. Like many of you, I'd love to get more involved, but I'm simply too busy living life, doing chores, etc. Nonetheless, this is probably a little out of line since I've never been to a meeting, but here it goes:

From what I've read in the Messenger, I believe the neighborhood President consistently abuses her executive powers. Some of her editorials are inappropriate and unbecoming of a neighborhood association president. I believe the role of the president is to represent the wishes of the majority, and to ensure all sides of an issue are impartially presented prior to a vote. It appears her heart is in the right place and she has some intelligent ideas, but it sounds as though she has her own agenda and doesn't like it when the majority disagrees with her. I appreciate her energy and enthusiasm and honestly believe we need more people like her in the community, just not as president.

This week I read that I'll now receive a $1000 fine, per sign, for having a friendly neighborhood yard sale. Ludicrous is the only word that comes to mind. I can understand cracking down on people who don't take their signs down after the sale, but no signs at all?

- The 5K was a much bigger event than I expected. My running shoes finally finished drying last week. Despite the rain and soggy bagels, it was tons of fun.

- The Arts and Music Festival was much smaller than I expected. I must admit that the modest festival is oozing with potential. You could tell that in five years the park will be rocking. I look forward to telling my friends in twenty years "I remember when they first moved the festival to the park..."

- One of the main reasons I chose to live in Candler Park was the park. I can't think of an intown neighborhood in any city that has it's own golf course (less than $5!), tennis courts and swimming pool. That leads me to my next issue; the pool.

All I can say is don't believe the hype. I too was reluctant to give the pool a chance because of the negative things I'd heard and read. I'm so glad I gave it a try. What an unappreciated, under-utilized resource. The pool manager was super friendly, as were the lifeguards. The pool is huge and the water fairly clean, especially for a public pool. I recently took a good friend and long time Candler park resident to the pool for the first time. He and his wife now swim there every chance they get. I've heard about all the planned improvements and they all sound positive. Ironically, the friend I mentioned is not in favor of the improvements because he thinks it will cause the pool to become too crowded - he wants to keep the secret to himself. I respect his opinion, but I'm for progress.

The tennis courts are phenomenal. One thing I'd like to see are lights on the remaining two courts. It sucked last fall when I had to end my game because we ran out of daylight and weren't fortunate enough to be on one of the lighted courts. I plan on becoming involved in the pool/park committees. To be redundant, the park is such an invaluable neighborhood resource.

In closing, it's been a great year.

- Jonathan Berger
